Profile: Academic Swiss Army Knife. Grace giver, passionate advocate, positive, self-motivated, and 100% fueled by strength based perspectives. Experienced in the field of education in many disciplines. A youth development aficionado, also to include expanded learning programs, leadership development in schools, family and community empowerment practices, with attention to strategies, procedures, service evaluation, observation, and coaching. Integrates emotional intelligence and attention, to effectively communicate through written documentation and verbal communication. Strong ability to motivate and inspire others to foster positive change. Serving is my life's work! In the process, I've learned true humility. It is my professional gift and life objective to provide quality services to students, families and the communities I serve.
